Meeting Announcements

■ Biocuration2012. Hold the dates! The 5th International Biocuration Conference will take place in Washington, DC from April 2 - 4, 2012 and is hosted by the Protein Information Resource (PIR). Biocuration2012 will occur as a joint effort with the organizers of the BioCreative, GMOD and "Beyond the PDF" meetings. Additional details will be announced shortly.

■ ISB goes to ISMB. The International Society for Biocuration will be present at the 19th Annual International Conference on Intelligent Systems for Molecular Biology and 10th European Conference on Computational Biology, which will be held this July in Vienna. The ISMB/ECCB conferences provide a multidisciplinary forum for disseminating the latest developments in bioinformatics and computational biology and ISB is pleased to be part of this year's event.

■ International Conference on Biomedical Ontology. ICBO will be held on July 26-30, 2011. The submission deadline for papers is March 11, 2011. <http://icbo.buffalo.edu/>

■ 1st International Workshop on Semantic Publication. SePublica is part of the Extended Semantic Conference, to be held this May in Crete, Greece. More details can be found at: <http://sepublica.mywikpaper.org>
